

2013 WEVA Congress Heads to Hungary

The World Equine Veterinary Association (WEVA), along with the Hungarian Association of Equine Practitioners (HAEP) and the World Organization of Hungarian Veterinarians (WOHV), cordially invite veterinarians to participate in the 13th Congress of the World Equine Veterinary Association, which will be held Oct. 3-5, 2013 in Budapest, Hungary.

Program Chair and WEVA Board Member C.J. (Kate) Savage, BVSc (Hons), MS, PhD, Dipl. ACVIM, along with local organizers Dr. Zita Makra, president of the HAEP, and Dr. Istvan Szieberth, president of WOHV, have developed a program featuring 30 well-known international speakers. Additionally, the conference organizers have issued a "Call for Abstracts"; interested parties are asked to visit the Congress website (listed below) for additional information.

A highlight of the Congress will be a dinner and social program that includes a demonstration of Hungarian horsemanship typical in the Puszta (meaning "great plains") region, a traditional Hungarian farmyard, and some great Hungarian cuisine.

Budapest, known as the "Pearl of the Danube," is a historic city transected by the Danube River. River cruises up and down the Danube are very popular with visitors to Hungary. Budapest has a modern airport accessible from all major cities around the world.
